

Searching for journal articles on ATLA Databases

Gamble Guides

Staff, student, research, life and annual members of the Gamble Library have access to ATLA Religion Database and ATLASerials. This allows access to thousands of journal articles and indexed records (e.g. articles in edited books – Festschriften, symposia and conference proceedings), which can easily be searched.

Login via the link and User ID. Ask library staff for further details if you do not yet have these.

Click on 'Choose Databases.'

Select 'ATLA Religion Database with ATLASerials' only and click 'OK.'

Basic searching

This is the basic search page.

Enter keywords and phrases and click on ‘search.’ For example, ‘Saint Patrick’ and click on ‘search.’

Basic searches will return many results which may or may not be relevant. It is therefore advisable to carry out advanced searches rather than basic searches. See later in the guide for advanced search tips. Basic search results can however be refined according to your needs by using the column on the left of the webpage.

Refine the results to those which are scholarly (peer reviewed) journals, academic journals only (since reviews will not give an accurate overview of an author's viewpoint) etc. by clicking into the relevant boxes.

You can choose articles from a certain date (more recent articles are usually preferred by lecturers) by moving the sliding bar along according to your preferences. The results will then be updated automatically.

Search tips: stop words are common words which the computer has been programmed to ignore, such as the, of, or, been, however, so and etc. These can be omitted when searching. This search engine is not case sensitive.

Search strategies

- Think about keywords and related terms to do with the topic you are looking for information on. Plan your searches and keep brief notes of your searches to avoid time-wasting repetition. Use a thesaurus to help. Think about how the terms can be linked together within the search as well. Different ways of combining keywords can retrieve different results. ATLA provide a subject thesaurus and dictionary which may help you think of keywords and related terms. (The thesaurus is visible on the ribbon at the top of the screen if you selected 'Choose Databases' and clicked 'ATLA Religion Database with ATLASerials' only. 'Dictionaries' will be visible on the ribbon if you selected all three databases - ATLA Religion Database with ATLASerials; Audiobook Collection and eBook Collection).

To use the thesaurus click on the link at the top of the screen, then enter your term to browse the subject index.

To use the dictionary click 'Dictionary' at the top of the page. Type in your term and browse.

The screenshot shows the EBSCOhost interface for the ATLA Religion Database. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links: New Search, Publications, Scriptures, Dictionary, and More. On the right, there are links for Sign In, Folder, Preferences, Languages, Help, and Exit. Below the navigation bar, the EBSCOhost logo is on the left, and 'THE UNION THEOLOGICAL COLLEGE' is on the right. The main content area is titled 'Database: ATLA Religion Database with ATLASerials'. On the left side, there is a sidebar for the 'Oxford American College Dictionary'. The search term 'devil' is entered in the search box, and the 'Browse' button is highlighted with a red rectangle. Below the search box, a list of related terms is shown: deviant, deviate, deviation, device, devil (highlighted), devil ray, devil's advocate, devil's food cake, and Devil's Island. The main content area displays the details for the word 'devil'. It includes the 'Main Entry' (devil / 'devl/), the 'Definition(s)' (noun and verb), and the 'Subentry' (phrases between the devil and the deep (blue) sea caught in a dilemma, devil a — archaic not even one or any; the devil a man of you stirred himself over it, devil-may-care cheerful and reckless, a devil of a — informal used to emphasize great size or degree, the devil is in the details the details of a matter are its most problematic).

- Use related terms as required when searching. If you get too few results you may need to widen the search by using a broader term. For instance, if you search for “Philemon” and get very little, you could then search for “Pauline Epistle,” which will hopefully return more results. If your search returns too many results, which are often irrelevant, you may need to narrow it down by using a narrower term. If you searched for “heresy” and get too many results you may search again for “Arianism” and get fewer, more relevant results. A thesaurus, either in hardcopy or online, should help with identifying related terms and synonyms.
- Search for synonyms, e.g. death, deceased, passing, etc.
- Alternative spellings, e.g. honor or honour, neighbor or neighbour. The wildcard # can be used in cases where an alternative spelling might add an extra letter. For instance, col#r finds references to color and colour.
- Variations in root words, prefixes, suffixes and plurals. For example, lead, mislead, leadership, leading, leader, leaders. Wildcards and truncation can be used if you want to find all words related to the root word. This is when you use a symbol to replace letters at the end of, or in words. In ATLA Databases ? is used to replace each unknown character. For example, m?n finds references to man and men. Truncation is performed using * to replace several consecutive characters. For example, lead* would search for lead, leader, leaders, leadership, leading etc. Please note that wildcards and truncation cannot be combined for a single term in a search, e.g. p#ediatric* would be the same as a search for p* and would not be very useful. The symbol * can be used to match an unknown word in a phrase e.g. midsummer * dream.
- When a singular word is searched for, the plural and possessive forms will also be searched. However, if the singular word is enclosed in quotation marks, only the singular word will be returned. For instance, Gospel will return Gospel, Gospels, Gospel's. However, "Gospel" will only return Gospel.

- When a plural term is searched for, the search engine will automatically search for the singular form of the term. If the plural is spelt differently (e.g. child, children) the search is not automatically expanded.
- Changes in place names. For instance, Myanmar, Burma.
- It can be useful to search for a phrase as it makes your search more exact. A phrase is a series of words in the order entered, with no other words between. The phrase should be entered in quotation marks. For example, "Synoptic Gospels."
- To search for an article when you have more than one of the authors' names, separate them with AND. E.g. To search for a work by John Smith and Jane Jones, enter Smith AND Jones or Smith John AND Jones Jane or John Smith AND Jane Jones. The search phrase Smith Jones will not find the item: it will only retrieve items by authors named "Smith Jones" or "Jones Smith."
- Parentheses (brackets) can be used. Terms inside these are searched first.
- Near operator Ndigit E.g. N3 finds the words if they are within three words of one another regardless of the order they appear in - Miracles N3 Jesus.
- Within operator Wdigit E.g. W4 finds the words if they are within four words of one another in the order in which they were entered - Synoptic W4 Gospels.

ATLA also takes note of your search history automatically storing this for a short time period. This means you can return to searches which you have performed earlier in the session and save them if desired. This helps you to keep track of what you have searched previously. Just click on “Search History” under the search boxes to bring up your history. If you are interested in a particular search, make sure you save it.

The “Share” button allows you to: save several articles to your folder at once; save the search to your folder; create a search alert or set up an RSS feed for the search you have most recently carried out. When you create a search alert you are emailed when an article is uploaded into ATLA Databases which would have been returned in your search. Just click “e-mail alert” and complete the form according to your needs.

The screenshot shows the ATLA Religion Database search results page. The search criteria are 'old testament' and 'Christ'. The results list three articles. The first article, 'Faithfulness to Christ as Covenant Fidelity: The Pastoral Purpose behind the Old Testament Allusions in the Seven Messianic Psalms', is highlighted. A 'Share' button is visible, and a dropdown menu is open, showing options like 'Add to folder', 'Add search to folder', 'Create an alert', and 'E-mail Alert'. The 'E-mail Alert' option is highlighted with a red box. The 'Folder has items' section on the right shows a list of saved items, including 'Is it the case that Christ...'. The 'Refine Results' section on the left shows filters for 'Boolean/Phrase', 'Limits', 'Source Types', 'Language', and 'Limit To'.
