Search tips

- When searching if you enter up to three words, only records containing all of them will be returned.
- If you enter four or more words it will return records containing all or most of them. If you are using the basic search the terms may be located anywhere in the record, e.g., in the title, author, subject fields or anywhere on the record.
- You can search for a phrase using quotation marks, e.g., "Synoptic Gospels"
- Terms can be combined using AND, OR and AND NOT.

- Linking terms with AND returns only those records that contain both terms
- Linking terms with OR returns records that contain either or both terms
- Linking terms with AND NOT returns records that include the first term, and excludes those records which also contain the second term.
- Complex searches can be created using AND, OR and AND NOT. Use brackets () to ensure that they are interpreted in the correct order. E.g., (Scotland OR Ireland) AND Reformation, finds records containing Reformation, plus either Scotland, Ireland, or both.
- If you enter a phrase within quotation marks, any AND, OR or AND NOT will not be interpreted as above. E.g., "For love or honour" will only return records containing that exact phrase.
- Wildcards can be used. The wildcard ? is used to replace a single character. The wildcard * may be used to replace one or more consecutive characters.

If you click on 'The Gamble Library' or home icon, you are taken back to the homepage and can search again.
